10 Pct. of Red Ammo Lost to Air Raiders

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 10 per cent of North Vietnam's ammunition stockpile, a supply source for Viet Cong guerrillas in the south, was destroyed in two of the eight air strikes U.S. and South Vietnamese bombers made against North Viet Nam since Feb. 7.

This estimate, it was learned today, is based on the March 1 blasting of Xom Bang and the March 14 strike at Phu Qui. It does not take into account the attack last weekend on Tiger Island, a transshipping point for the movement of ammunition and other supplies by sea to the insurgents. At least one of the recommendations brought back from Saigon by Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, has received swift approval by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other top administration officials: more helicopter companies will be sent to South Viet Nam.

There are 400 helicopters there now. A helicopter company has about 25 machines. There is a strong possibility 200 or 300 adviser-type U.S. military personnel will go to Viet Nam soon to increase the training programs for South Viet Nam's forces.

The persistent report, originating in Saigon, that the deployment of a whole U.S. Army division to Viet Nam was being recommended met with a flat "I deny it" from Johnson.

Within the past month, the U.S. 7th Fleet has stepped up its search for gun-running junks and small ships that slip in munitions to contact points along the coast. Aircraft from the three carriers of the 7th Fleet, standing out at sea, are helping South Vietnamese patrol junks run down the Red boats.

Recently, three boats were discovered en route from North Viet Nam to Tiger Island. One was captured.

The first of the air strikes against North Viet Nam ammunition depots were said by the administration to be strictly retaliatory for Red attacks on U.S. manned bases.

Now, their ultimate objectives are first to reduce the flow of arms and men from North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam and second to convince the North Viet Nam Communist government that it should stop interfering in affairs of her neighbor.

No one seems to expect the air strikes to topple the Hanoi government, nor are they intended for that purely political purpose.

American leaders believe that very marked military effect is being obtained through the continuing bombing program. If Hanoi could be convinced of the need for getting out of its war by remote control, a substantial reduction of Viet Cong activity in the south, perhaps as much as three-quarters of its present level, might follow. Any order coming down from Hanoi would have firm influence over the guerrillas.

To date, losses to the U.S. and South Viet Nam air force resulted from ground fire, not interception.

North Vietnamese crews only recently completed operations training in Chinese-made MIGs and may not be ready to tangle with U.S. jets. Moreover, the radius of the MIG 15 and 17s is limited to about 350 to 400 miles, which means that attempts to intercept air operations against the Viet Cong ground forces in South Viet Nam would carry the interceptors to the utmost limits of operation.

THAT WAS A CROSS BOW — Capt. Francisco Pena, a U. S. Army doctor, may be the first soldier since the days of Gen. George Armstrong Custer to get a Purple Heart for an arrow wound, Pena was shot with a crossbow in Viet Nam. Pena, who expects to be separated from the service in July, is shown with a crossbow.

New Fire Truck Purchase Okayed

Final legislation clearing the way for purchase of a new aerial ladder truck and other firefighting equipment was enacted last night by City Council.

An ordinance authorizing the issuance of notes for purchasing the fire apparatus was passed by a unanimous vote. A bid to supply the aerial ladder - pumper unit will be awarded today.

The contract will be signed with the Seagrave firm of Cincinnati, Ohio.

tonville, Wis. The company, one of four bidding for the job, offered the low proposal.

The Seagrave bid amounted to $48,678. According to terms of the contract, the vehicle will be delivered here in about nine months.

SPECIFICATIONS for the city call for a 75-foot aerial ladder unit equipped with a 1,000 gallon per minute water pumping capacity. The purchase was authorized by Circleville Council following the passage of a levy at the November election.

In addition to the aerial ladder vehicle, the levy will provide for the purchase of additional equipment designed to improve the city department's firefighting capabilities. An overall objective is to provide the community with a better fire protection insurance rate classification.

Last night's ordinance calls for the issuance of a series of four notes in the principal amount of $52,000. Each will bear interest not to exceed six per cent.

Fire Damages Dunkle Road Residence

Fire heavily damaged the home of the Rev. and Mrs. L. S. Metzler on Dunkle Road 9:55 p. m. yesterday.

The blaze started in the garage of the home where Glenn Metzler, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Metzler, was repairing a car.

Young Metzler told Circleville firemen he dropped a gas tank he had taken from a foreign made car near a battery charger. Apparently sparks from the battery charger ignited the gasoline. The flames spread quickly to the front part of the house.

A SPOKESMAN for the Circleville Fire Department said a fire hydrant was fortunately located within 500 feet of the house and they were able to bring the flames under control before the house was totally destroyed.

However, he said damage would be counted in the thousands of dollars when the inventory is completed.

There was considerable smoke damage to the home as well as damage to the fire.

A hotrod and the foreign car were totally destroyed by the blaze while a motorcycle and a garden tractor were extensively damaged.

Fire Chief Bernard Wolf, Lt. Glenn Jones, Mike Brown and Martin Garner were on the call. They were on the scene for approximately 90 minutes.

Nobody was injured by the fire.

Prexy Aloof On $361,000 Residence

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The planned $361,000 president's home on the campus of Ohio State University doesn't excite the man who will be the first to live in it.

As a matter of fact, Novice G. Fawcett, OSU's president, makes it clear he has had no part in planning the house, and that personally, he doesn't really care whether he lives in it or not.

Some published criticism followed the recent announcement of plans for the president's home. It will be constructed with money donated to the Ohio State University Development Fund, with no state money involved.

University officials say they are puzzled at the criticism heard from some quarters, particularly since no taxpayers' money is involved. Some of the critics have indicated they believe the money can be better used for scholarships and the like, but university sources report that those giving to the house fund also contribute to various scholarship funds.

Dixie Opposition Shrinks To Vote Rights Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shrinking Southern opposition indicated today that Senate leaders may be able to win passage of a voting rights bill without encountering a full-blast filibuster.

If lengthy talk should develop to threaten relatively speedy action, an Associated Press cross-section survey indicated that leaders could cut it off by mustering more than the necessary two-thirds majority of those voting.

Comment indicated senators expect no full-dress filibuster which would run for weeks, as one did against the 1964 civil rights bill.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said he supposed Southerners whose states were affected by the measure would "put on a token filibuster." But Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said he doubts one will develop.

Two senators who voted against debate on the measure said they would support a filibuster on this basic constitutional guarantee.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nebr., said he had always supported full and equal voting rights "and I see no valid basis whatsoever for a filibuster on this basic constitutional guarantee."

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, said he doesn't believe it will be necessary to invoke a debate limitation.

But if the filibuster which Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., has threatened develops, a survey indicated it could be halted by an even larger vote than the 71-29 margin by which the Senate rights bill by invoking its cloture rule.

In the list of the 29 who stood for continued talk at that time, two senators who subsequently replaced members who voted "no" say they would vote for a debate limitation if it was necessary to get a voting rights bill passed. They are Sens. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., and Ross B. Ten.

Sen. Paul J. Fannin, R-Ariz., who replaced Barry Goldwater, declined to commit himself.

Among five senators who replaced former members who voted for cloture, only Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., declined to commit himself to support of a debate limitation. Murphy said he is "inclined to think full discussion is very important in the most deliberative body in the world."

LAUSCHE was among those who last year voted against a bill to raise the annual pay of Senators and Representatives from $22,500 to $30,000.

He has numerous degrees, including honorary ones, from a number of colleges and universities but none from Muskingum. An aide to Lausche said Tuesday he does not know what prompted Lausche to establish the fund at Muskingum.

King To Lead Fresh Protest

Federal Judge's Verdict Awaited

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights leaders, with detailed plans already laid out for a march from Selma to Montgomery, waited today for a federal judge to say whether they can make it.

It was up to U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. to decide if Negroes and their white sympathizers have a right to march the 50 miles to dramatize their demands for equal voting rights.

Negro attorneys with the support of the Justice Department, have asked the court to prohibit state troopers from interfering with the protest march as they have twice in the past 10 days.

A five-day hearing ended Tuesday, but Johnson withheld an immediate ruling. He said he would hand down a decision "as soon as possible."

Lawyers for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People filed with the court an elaborately detailed plan for the march, if and when it leaves Selma.

It provides for dinner on the ground and singing around the campsites on the four nights the demonstrators would spend on the road.

Campsites already have been selected on private property along heavily traveled U.S. Highway 80, the route was formed. Large tents would be erected "by professionals."

Walker-talkies and two-way car radios will be used to keep the demonstrators in touch with their leaders and with food wagons and equipment trucks.

An unlimited number of marchers are to walk along the 30 miles of four-lane highway, according to the plan, but no more than 300 will be allowed on the 20-mile stretch of two-lane pavement.

Trucks will carry food, camping equipment, washing and toilet facilities.

After arriving in Montgomery, Negro leaders plan a mass meeting at the state Capitol — if they can have one. State troopers have ringed the century-old white-columned building in recent days with orders to keep all demonstrators off the grounds.

New Selma March Set

Over My Dead Body, Clark Says

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights leaders were set to launch another attempted march on the Dallas County courthouse today after failing twice Tuesday to penetrate police lines.

Sheriff James G. Clark said they could go to the courthouse "over my dead body."

The Rev. James Bevel, an aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said leaders also would map plans for a proposed 50-mile hike from Selma to the state Capitol at Montgomery in protest to alleged voter registration discrimination.

He said the march to Montgomery would begin within 24 hours after a federal court in Montgomery rules on a petition by Negro leaders to prevent state and local officers from interfering with the hike.

Bevel said the group would march "regardless of what the court order says."

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., who conducted a five-day hearing in Montgomery before taking the petition under advisement, banned any more attempted marches from Selma to Montgomery after an attempt on March 7 was broken up by club-wielding state troopers using tear gas.

Demonstrators tried Tuesday to march to the Dallas County courthouse. Both times they were halted by local officers.

The back-to-back attempts followed King's announcement that his steadily growing civil rights army will keep marching in the streets of Alabama until Congress enacts the vote-right guarantee proposed by President Johnson.

"The main focus will be kept on Alabama," the integration leader said, adding that the 50-mile pilgrimage to Montgomery would be undertaken to keep the issue before the nation.

'Bama Police Said 'Brutal'

Rightists Poised In Capital City

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., claiming police brutality, planned to lead a march on the courthouse today to protest a rout of demonstrators by club-wielding sheriff's deputies.

The deputies, astride quick-starting quarter horses, clubbed white and Negro civil rights demonstrators in a bloody melee Tuesday that sent eight persons to hospitals.

"We cannot stand idly by and allow this to happen," King told his followers at a rally several hours later.

"We must get together a peaceful and orderly march on the courthouse in Montgomery." The horsemen swung clubs, canes and ropes to break up a sit-down by about 600 persons, many of them white college students from other states. Among the injured was a white college teacher from Pennsylvania.

A state official said a mixup in police orders caused the deputies to nudge their horses into the demonstrators.

There were these other developments on the racial scene:

—Gov. George C. Wallace permitted voter registration boards 10 extra days to process voter applications in six Alabama counties. They include Dallas, whose county seat is Selma, a center of civil rights activities for weeks.

—At Hayneville, Ala., the Board of Registrars announced that it has registered the first Negro voter in Lowndes County. Negroes outnumber white residents by a wide margin in the county.

—Civil rights leaders failed twice in attempts to march on the Dallas County courthouse at Selma. Police halted them.

—A bill was introduced in the Alabama Senate to junk the state's voter literacy tests now under attack in the federal courts. The proposal would change the state's voter requirements to a sixth-grade education or the equivalent.

—President Johnson's press secretary said the chief executive was keeping in close touch with the Montgomery situation.

FBI agents on the scene of the Montgomery violence began an immediate investigation and others were called to Montgomery to help.

Police had blocked the march because no permit had been given. The horsemen were moved in.

Later 1,000 Negroes, with a permit from the City Commission, marched on the state Capitol with a petition for Wallace. They failed to see him and left after half an hour.

A Wallace aide said the government would set up appointments with Negro college groups but the appointments were canceled after the march on the Capitol began to develop.

Ohioan Accused In Dual Slaying

FLEMINGSBURG, Ky. (AP) — An Ohio man, 32-year-old Clyde E. Fannin of Fairborn, was charged with murder Tuesday in the deaths of two Fleming County women Feb. 23.

Fleming County Tuesday Richard Hinton said Tuesday night Fannin was being held in the county jail on two charges of murder in the deaths of Mrs. Hattie Green, 72, and her daughter, Mrs. Nanie Zornes, 57.

The bodies of the women were found in their home after it had been destroyed by fire. Hinton said the women were presumed to have died in the fire until investigators later found evidence the two were shot to death before the house burned.

The bomb experts said it was a dud.

"That's all right," said Andrew, "I've got another one at home. I found them buried in the garden."

The bomb experts collected the other shell, too.

Freeloading Mr. Hoo Hoo Poses Problem

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Here's what happened when the owl came to the barbecue: "Get the cat!" cried the hostess. "Get the cat!"

"But dear," said the host, one hand protectively over his martini olive, "the cat can't catch a bird that size!"

"No, no," said the hostess, shaking a spatula at the sky, "I mean the owl might catch the cat!"

The freeloading Mr. Hoo was out freeloading again.

The bird is a great horned owl someone apparently caught young, raised as a pet, and then freed. But this is one owl which doesn't give a hoot for the call of the wild.

It likes handouts — and young girls.

Six girls have been scratched by the owl's talons, and mothers around Bluebird Canyon playground are now passing a petition demanding that the Humane Society remove the owl.

"Remove him!" said the Humane Society's Fred Garcelon, "we've been trying to catch him for two years, and we haven't been able to get closer than six feet. I guess it's a case for the game warden."

"If we can't catch him," said District Game Warden Richard B. Kramer, "I'm afraid we'd be forced to destroy him."

"They can't kill Mr. Hoo," said June Budd, one of the many homeowners who feed the owl and claim a proprietary interest in it. "He loves to sit on their shoulders and be fed."

"When he gets hungry he flies into the kitchen — you should see him look into the refrigerator when I open the door! Most he prefers beef hearts."

"But the other day he did steal some spare ribs from a neighbor's barbecue. And then there was that turtle he took from another neighbor's fish pond."

A Lagunan who fought the owl away from the cheese dip at a patio party swore the owl's wings spanned five feet. But Mrs. Budd's husband, Otho, once caught the bird and measured it: the span is just under four feet.

Budd took the owl 20 miles into the mountains and released it. The next morning it was back at the kitchen window, hooting for beef hearts.

A wooded vale a mile from this resort city's bustling beach district — care less for Mr. Hoo Hoo.

One housewife, en route home from market, nearly wrecked her convertible when the bird flew into the car and peered wishily into the grocery sacks. "The worst of it all," she said, "was that my husband wouldn't believe me."

Darkhaired Laurie Hano, 11, is nursing a grudge — and a scratched scalp.

"He tried to sit on my head," said Laurie, "and I ran. Guy! You ever try to outrun an owl? He caught me. Mostly he chases blondes. He's just keen on blondes."

OHIOAN RISKS

Prof's Wrath To March

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—"I didn't want to come down here. We're in the middle of finals. But I felt I had to join in the movement," said one Antioch College student in explaining why he came to Alabama to join in the voting rights struggle.

"I would be a hollow stone if I didn't actually do something about it," another Antioch student added.

"This is part of my being," said David Laibman of Cleveland. "I believe the Negro struggle is part of the struggle for American rights."

The first speaker, John Robbins of New York City, said he did not know what would happen about his tests when he returns to school. "It will be up to the professors," he said.

Laibman and Robbins were among demonstrators dispersed by sheriff's deputies when mounted possemen rode their horses into the group and clubbed some of them. Neither was hurt.

Another Ohio student, who was slightly injured in Tuesday's demonstration, was Eric Ster of Cleveland, the president-elect of the University of Pittsburgh's student government.

One of the highlights of the concert will be the performance of excerpts from "Lost in the Stars," a musical drama, and Negro Spirituals especially arranged by Robert Alexander, director of the choir.

Another feature will be the souvenir program book with the theme, "Circleville, City with a Future." Much of the book's content is devoted to historical, geographical and statistical notes about Circleville, according to the pastor, the Rev. F. E. Johnson Jr.

Tickets will be available at the door.

20 Tons of Bombs Delivered in Asia

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—U. S. jet fighter-bombers apparently raided Communist areas in Laos again today, dropping more than 20 tons of high-explosive bombs.

More than a dozen planes, including six F105 fighter-bombers, took off from the Da Nang air base on a secret mission. They flew west, in the direction of Laos, where U.S. Air Force jets have made repeated raids on Communist supply lines in recent weeks.

The F105s returned to Da Nang with their bomb racks empty.

The fighter-bombers were accompanied by F100 Super Sabre fighters. They normally go in first to black out antiaircraft positions while other F100s form a protective umbrella overhead in case of enemy fighter attacks.

An Air Forcespokesman refused to comment on the flight. It was not known whether any of the planes were lost or damaged.

Two more American dead were reported today in South Viet Nam. A U.S. Navy officer was killed by the Viet Cong in the Mekong River delta, and a Marine died of wounds suffered in an accidental shooting at the Da Nang base.

Their deaths raised the unofficial total of Americans killed in Viet Nam since December 1961, to 430 — 304 of them in combat.

The Navy officer was participating in a search-and-destroy operation Tuesday night near the town of Vinh Long, 65 miles southwest of Saigon. Reports from the area said a Navy enlisted man was hit in the chest and seriously wounded. A U.S. Army enlisted man was hit in the hand by a shell fragment.

The Marine was a member of a three-man patrol that went down Hill 327 overlooking the Da Nang air base Sunday night to investigate a suspicious noise. As they returned, another Marine in their fire team apparently mistook them for Viet Cong guerrillas and opened fire. One member of the patrol was killed and the third man was wounded slightly.

Gerrymander

End Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has dealt what it hopes is a lethal blow at the gerrymander — that odd-shaped congressional district drawn to favor one party over another.

It did it by passing a bill setting federal standards for congressional districts, which would require districts to be "as compact as practical."

Although the definition is far from precise, the bill's backers made it clear they mean the courts to outlaw the weirdly shaped districts that take their name from an early Massachusetts governor, Elbridge Gerry.

Another provision of the bill would permit the population of a congressional district to be within 15 per cent of the average district in that state.

Mount Vernon School

Cutback Is Expected

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—Citizens of the Mount Vernon School District faced some curtailment in school facilities today after Tuesday's defeat of a 5.5 mill levy for school operating expenses.

In a special election, citizens of the district defeated the proposal by a vote of 2,635 yes to 3,523 no. The issue needed a 55 per cent favorable vote and got only 42 per cent.

Cutbacks in operating facilities are in the works, but school officials have given no indication what these will be.

News of World in Brief

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—An infant boy abandoned in a car in a parking lot has been named Patrick by nurses at Springfield Hospital in honor of St. Patrick's Day. The 7-pound, 1-ounce infant was placed in an incubator after he was found Tuesday night.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI said today that critics of the reforms in Roman Catholic liturgy showed a "certain spiritual laziness" and lacked understanding of the religious implications of the revisions.

"Before it was enough to attend a service," the Roman Catholic pontiff said. "Now it is necessary to participate."

"Before one could doze, and perhaps chat, He can no longer do this. Now he must listen and pray."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and their wives linked arms and joined some 800 persons in singing "We Shall Overcome" at memorial services for the Rev. James J. Reeb.

The widow and 13-year-old son of the young minister, who was slain last week on a Selma, Ala., street, sat across the aisle from the Humphreys, the Kennedys and Lee White, President Johnson's personal representative, at Tuesday's service. The minister had gone to Selma to join in a voting rights demonstration.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—About 150 marchers, mostly youths, circled in front of the United States consulate here for an hour Tuesday carrying signs protesting treatment of Negroes in the Southern states.

The marchers sang freedom songs. Representatives of the group asked that U.S. Consul General Avery Peterson or one of his top officials come to the University of British Columbia campus and answer questions from students on the Alabama situation.

"We're glad to do anything that will help elucidate and explain our position," said Peterson, "but I'm not sure what good it will do to answer this particular request."

ABINGTON, Pa. (AP)—A justice of the peace has dismissed charges against Howard Sautter, who had refused to get rid of his pet lion, Leo.

Officials in Abington Township, a Philadelphia suburb, had contended that Leo was a public nuisance and violated a new ordinance prohibiting the keeping of wild animals.

But Justice of the Peace Andrew Khout ruled Tuesday night that the township failed to establish that Sautter, 54, was breaking the law because it did not prove that Leo was wild.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Storage batteries may not sound like a glamorous subject in space research, but the problem of working out power supplies for future space explorers is a very real one facing scientists here.

So it was with some satisfaction that a scientist at Lewis Research Center, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration facility, announced Tuesday that a battery has been produced that will function in the frigid temperatures found on Mars — from 30 degrees below to 100 degrees below zero.

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Artist Margaret Keane has been awarded a decree of legal separation from her artist-partner husband, Walter Keane, on grounds that he was "jealous, critical and unpleasant."

Judge James O'Keefe granted the decree in San Mateo County Superior Court Tuesday. Keane did not contest his wife's claim.

Astronaut Plans To Pilot Gemini

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom is about to become the first Buck Rogers of the space age.

If no hitches develop in his Gemini launch, scheduled for next Tuesday, the short, graying Grissom, an Air Force major, will be the first space traveler, American or Russian, to control the flight of his space ship.

Grissom will drive the two-seater spacecraft across the heavens, actually changing its orbital path. Other U.S. astronauts have been able to control the attitudes of their vehicles, but not the orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today outlined details of the mission, the first manned flight of the Gemini program.

Grissom's copilot on the three-orbit trip will be a likeable, dark-complexioned Navy lieutenant commander, John W. Young, 34.

The 4-hour, 52-minute flight is to grind out the bugs in the two-seater spacecraft in preparation for the long duration and rendezvous missions planned for Gemini in months to come.

Grissom, who will be 39 April 3, will have the distinction of being the first person to have two space trips under his belt.

None of the other 14 persons shot into the heavens have made an encore flight. Grissom was the second American in space, flying a suborbital shot on July 21, 1961.

None of the 15 had much to say where he was going, or where he would land.

The nine Russians and six Americans in a sense were "just along for the ride."

Ground crews controlled the flights from liftoff to landing.

Grissom will make tricky maneuvers in space that will change his orbital path four times and will control the 7,000-pound spacecraft for all but 20 minutes of the flight. He will be able to pick his own landing spot and then with the help of a small, on-board computer, guide the capsule to a landing about 70 miles northeast of Grand Turk Island.

The flight primarily is to gather engineering data and the three scientific experiments planned will require less than 7 minutes of the astronaut's time.

A canister of human blood will be exposed to a dose of radiation to measure the effect weightlessness has on it. Sea urchin eggs will be exposed in the same manner.

The other experiment will be an attempt to break the communications blackout during reentry by spraying water into the electrified plasma sheath which surrounds the craft.

Grissom will fly the spacecraft by using tiny rocket engines called thrusters.

Backup crew for the flight is Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Thirty-one students in the Circleville city school system posted perfect 4.0 grades during the fourth six-week grading period.

Fifteen couples enjoyed an evening of bridge at the Pickaway Country Club.

TEN YEARS AGO

Miss Wilmina Phebus, Circleville, became the bride of Mr. Lester E. Wolford, Williamsport in the First Methodist Church, Circleville.

Dr. H. H. Swope was guest speaker at the meeting of the Williamsport Child Study League, held in the home of Mrs. Fred Whiteside.

Athletic banquets throughout Pickaway County got underway when Pickaway Twp. School held its event.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Committees were announced by the Kiwanis Club for its second annual Policemen-Firemen Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bendure and daughter of Washington D. C. were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howard, Williamsport.

Purina Feeds, winners of the Circleville Basketball League, were to compete in the Hocking Valley Independent basketball tournament at Union Furnace.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE UNITED STATES continues to subject incoming Presidents to attacks of pneumonia and worse by insisting that they take the oath of office outdoors in often foul midwinter weather in Washington. Ed Newman, however, points out gradual evolutions in the inauguration ceremonies.

It was James Madison, for instance, who first resolved to wear only American-made clothes at his inauguration. Martin Van Buren introduced the ceremonial ride the length of Pennsylvania Avenue. William Henry Harrison spoke the longest—a solid hour and forty minutes in sub-zero cold. It's a wonder the crowd didn't demand his impeachment then and there!

McKinley's inaugural address, incidentally, was the first covered by motion picture cameras; Coolidge's the first broadcast on radio, and Truman's in 1949 the first flashed on a TV network.

Maybe kids study physics too early in life these days. Reprimanded by his mother for playing too close to the railing of the family's penthouse apartment, nine-year-old Mortimer reassured her, "Don't worry, mom! Mrs. Boyden told us in class last week that a man falling through the atmosphere near the earth never goes faster than 119 miles an hour!"

In a much-quoted literary exchange, F. Scott Fitzgerald is supposed to have told Ernest Hemingway, "The very rich are different from you and me." To which Hemingway replied sourly, "Yes, they have more money."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is gonorrhea as serious as venereal disease as syphilis?

Gonorrhea and syphilis are both serious diseases, especially when treatment is delayed.

Although each is caused by a different infecting organism, both are distinct venereal diseases.

Contrary to the general impression of the uninformed, gonorrhea can be complicated by neglect, and can have permanent effects on health.

With bravado and the courage of ignorance, adolescents frequently casually pass off gonorrhea as no worse than an ordinary cold.

Unfortunately, venereal diseases go hand-in-hand with each other, when there is promiscuous exposure.

Education by parents, teachers and health officials must concentrate on the prevention of all venereal diseases if the present alarming statistics are to be reduced.

What is meant by "cradle cap?"

This is a skin condition that sometimes occurs during early infancy. Technically it is known as seborrheic dermatitis.

This crusting of the scalp is caused by an excess secretion of the oil-producing glands that lie beneath the skin. The condition is not serious and usually clears up quickly with simple treatment.

Is a Quinsy throat the same as a "strep" throat?

Although both are caused by the streptococcus germ, they are totally different conditions.

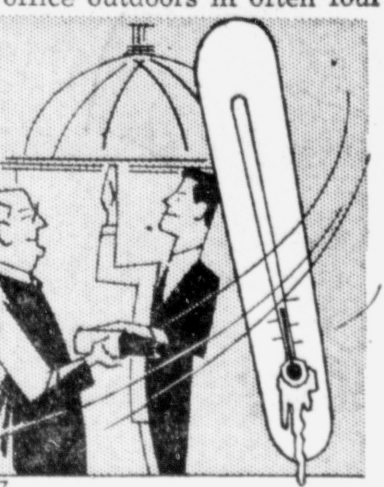

Quinsy is a severe inflammation in the tissues of the mouth that surround the tonsils. If untreated, an abscess may form which frequently requires surgery to release the pus and relieve this painful condition.

Early and intensive treatment with antibiotics is remarkably effective in reducing the Quinsy condition and the need for surgery.

A "strep" throat, too, is an acute infection associated with pain on swallowing, fever and marked redness of the throat.

Abscess formation does not usually occur with a strep throat unless the condition is neglected and complications develop.

The strep throat once terrified the patient, the family and even the doctor. Now the streptococcus that causes it has fallen victim to concentrated bombardment with antibiotics.

Reagan as Candidate

By John Chamberlain

LOS ANGELES — After taking a licking in his 1962 attempt to become Governor of California, Richard Nixon remarked that "California politics is a can of worms." This was an experienced politician's way of saying that no one can go into a campaign in California and know precisely where he will come out.

The prospect is extremely sobering to TV-star Ronald Reagan, whose moving and extremely well-documented speech in behalf of the Goldwater ticket last fall has made him one of the most courted Republican figures in the nation. There isn't a day when Ronnie Reagan isn't asked to speak somewhere, whether in Connecticut or at some district organization right around Los Angeles. And the boom is on among conservative Republicans to persuade Reagan to say he'll run for Governor of California in 1966 against Pat Brown, the man who beat Nixon.

Reagan is flattered by the attention he is getting, but he isn't letting it go to his head. A week ago, at an engraved invitation affair in the San Fernando Valley to which local Republican bigwigs had been invited to look Mr. Reagan over, the personable Ronnie said he'd only consent to run for office on condition that it wouldn't cut the Republicans up. Reagan is a most intelligent man who does his own political research and writing, and he knows what factionalism can do to beat anybody in California. The Republican Party hasn't been the same here since former U. S. Senator William Knowland and the then incumbent Goodie Knight got into a hassle over who should run for Governor, and the growing split between right and left wing groups hasn't done anything recently to improve matters.

The factionalism remains turbulent under the surface even though the talk everywhere is of "unity." The liberal Republicans are booming the senior U. S. Senator, Tom Kuchel, for Governor, and are quoting polls to show that Kuchel would get some seventy-five per cent of the Republican vote and thirty-three per cent of the Democratic vote in a contest against incumbent Pat Brown. But Mrs. Floy Archer of Wittier, the newly-elected head of the California Young Republicans, a 13,000-member organization, has been quoted as saying she would not work for Kuchel, though she "would vote for him rather than for a Democrat." She and other Young Republicans (they remain "young" in California until they reach the mid-forties, and Mrs. Archer herself has a couple of teen-age daughters) would prefer to "unify" behind Ronald Reagan in the 1966 gubernatorial campaign.

The prospects for "unity" behind anyone were severely damaged when ex-Governor Knight attacked Ronald Reagan for having once been a Democrat and for having consorted with radicals in film colony organizations that were infiltrated by Communists during the ideological warfare of the Nineteen Forties. This was an extremely stupid charge for Goldie Knight to bring up, for it gave Ronald Reagan the chance to riposte that only those who have run up against Communists in organization work can really appreciate the dangers they represent. And as for criticism for having "once been a Democrat," Mr. Reagan scored against Goodie Knight by remarking that he "hadn't realized that belonging to the Democratic Party, which includes millions of patriotic Americans, could possibly be construed as evidence per se of 'leftism.'"

Ex-Governor Knight is now in the position of having managed in one and the same breath to insult loyal American Democrats and hurt Republican chances for unity. This is bumbling with a vengeance. It is certainly not a way for Republicans to elect a Governor of California.

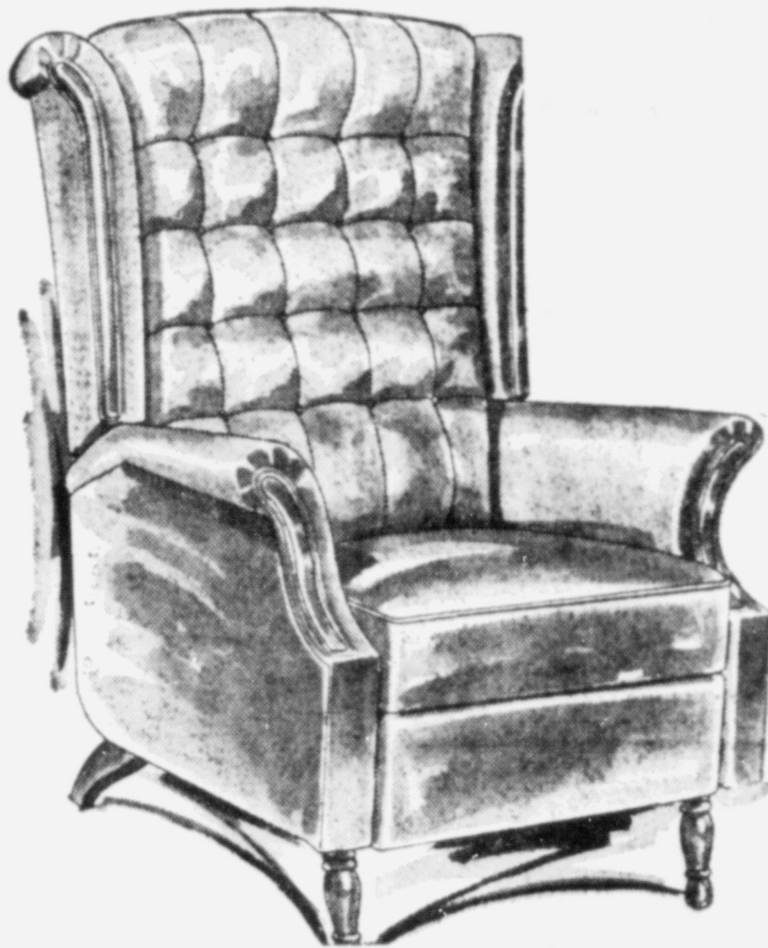

True enough, Democratic Governor Brown is also a fairly accomplished bumbler. But his mistakes are often of the lovable variety. When he remarked that the flood damage in Northern California was "the worst disaster since my election," everybody laughed. But they laughed as they used to laugh at the malapropisms of movie producer Sam Goldwyn, who wanted to be "included out." If Pat Brown can establish himself as the Sam Goldwyn of politics, who knows where he might go?

Kanin Ready To Return To Role as Film Director

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Garson Kanin has long posed an enigma for the movie crowd: why would a man start a brilliant career as a film director, then abandon it?

Broadway-trained Kanin came to Hollywood in the late 1930s and dazzled the town by turning B pictures into minor classics, notably "A Man to Remember" and "The Great Man Votes." RKO graduated him to top productions and he directed such hit comedies as "Bachelor Mother" and "Tom, Dick and Harry," both starring Ginger Rogers.

Kanin was one of the first film figures to be drafted, and he spent five years in the Army.

His most notable work during that period was the great documentary "The True Glory," which he and Carol Reed assembled from the footage of more than a thousand combat cameramen, 32 of whom were killed in action.

That was Kanin's last film-making. After the war he became enamored with writing, creating "Born Yesterday" and other plays, scores of short stories, a novel, and movie scripts "A Double Life," "A Man's Rib," etc., which he wrote with his wife, actress Ruth Gordon.

Back in town while his wife appears with Natalie Wood in "Inside Daisy Clover," Kanin disclosed he is ready to return to film directing.

"I'm actually prepared to start right away," he said. "MGM has bought my script, 'Roses Are Blue,' and I hope we will be able to start this spring. But we are running into the same problem that faces all producers nowadays: casting."

"The script calls for a girl who is clever, beautiful, sexy, emotional and young. Not many are around to fill these requirements, and those that do are all booked up."

Kanin said he couldn't explain his absence from screen direction, beyond the fact that he has been doing the things he likes to do.

Some Dixie Solons Shun LBJ Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some House members from Southern states did not attend Monday night's joint session of Congress to hear President Johnson's call for voting rights legislation.

Rep. George Andrews, D-Ala., was one who listened to television broadcasts of the address.

He told a reporter that some Southerners decided to pass up the joint session.

"We did not want to be embarrassed," he said.

Andrews said he did not know just how many Southerners did not attend but said it might be as many as 60.

There is no record of how many congressmen or senators did not attend since there were no roll calls at the session.

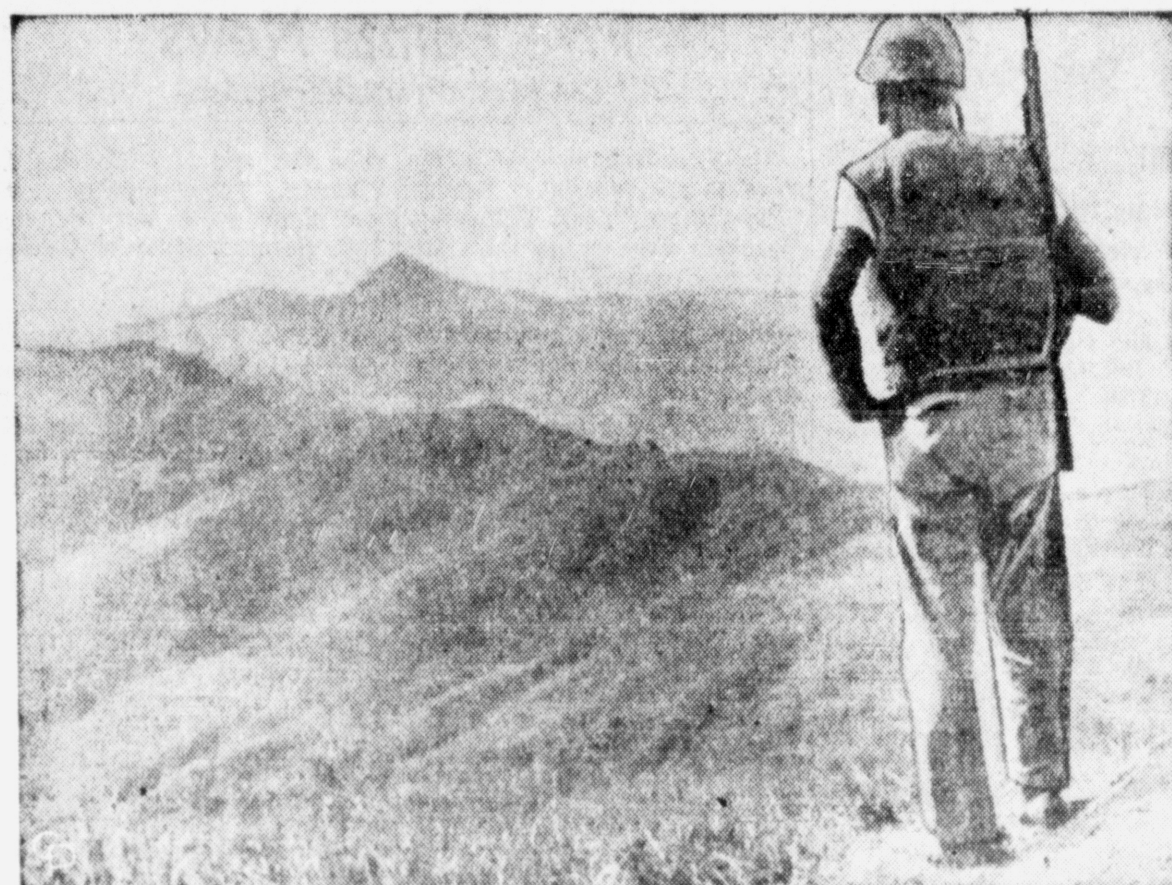

A House official told a reporter there was no organized boycott.

Just before the President entered the House chamber, some 20 to 40 blue-suited congressional aides moved in to sit in some empty seats. Pages usually are permitted to sit in seats on the chamber floor whenever they are available.

Baptists Oppose Free Bus Plan

JACKSON, Ohio (AP) — The Scioto Valley Association of Baptists has gone on record opposing school bus transportation bills now being considered in the Ohio Legislature.

The executive board of the group, meeting here recently, adopted the resolution which said it was opposing passage of the so-called school bus bill "and any other bills which would advocate the utilization of public funds for nonpublic schools in the State of Ohio." The board represents congregations in Jackson, Pike, Scioto, Gallia, Athens, Ross, Fayette and Hocking counties.

Importance
Of Record
Care Stressed

By ELEANOR ROSS

If listening to music is one of the pleasures that make your world go round, don't overlook the importance of record care. Don't let a fine, expensive collection deteriorate prematurely.

Absolute cleanliness is a rule that experts insist upon for both the discs and their surroundings.

Always wash hands with soap and water before handling records. Always hold records at the edge — or at the edge and center — so that fingers won't leave a greasy deposit that attracts dust.

Store records in albums, in closed paper jackets, or washable plastic jackets.

Revolving records are loaded with static electricity. This, in turn, attracts dust and grit which can cause scratches, affecting their playback.

Wipe off light dust with a damp chamois. To remove dirt embedded in the grooves, wring a cloth out in thick suds and use it to wipe both sides of the record. Work with a light circular motion which follows the direction of the grooves. Then rinse with a damp chamois. Avoid wetting or smudging the label.

Treat discs gently. Unbreakable does not mean unscratchable.

Valuable discs should be changed manually if possible. Apply the needle gently and make sure it is not worn. Diamond tips, which cost more, give several times more service than the less expensive sapphire tips. Take your choice, but be sure the needle is sharp. This is a must for good sound reproduction and for record longevity.

It is also good practice to wipe records with a damp cloth before playing them; this reduces dust attraction while the music is going round and round.

Wash storage shelves or cabinets often with a sponge or cloth squeezed out in warm suds, followed by rinse - wiping with a clean damp cloth.

Replace records only after the shelves are thoroughly dry — because moisture speeds the damaging action of chemical constituents in any dust which may settle on the surface of records.

To avoid warping, store records vertically, well supported and in a dry place away from artificial heat or direct sunlight — these are fatal for records.

And remember that even a wrinkled plastic jacket may cause a harmful surface imprint on the disc.

To get the music out of the speaker that went into the platter, you must have an unblemished record.

Bombings in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — One of Chicago's many crime mysteries still continues to baffle sheriff's police — the arson and bombings of metropolitan area restaurants.

"We know nothing, and we have no leads", says Arthur J. Bilek, Cook County chief of police. "No witness or complainant ever comes forward."

He suggests private, armed watchmen for the 4,000 restaurants in Chicago and the 261 other restaurants in unincorporated areas of Cook County.

In a discussion of organized crime, he said he thought the instigators were "controlled by a tightly knit organization... where the penalty of talking is death."

Solons Swap Brickbats on Apportioning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Verbal brickbats still are flying in Ohio's legislative halls over re-apportionment, with both sides using strong and fancy adjectives.

"Preposterous, a lobbyist's dream," Republicans said of the plan introduced Tuesday by House minority leader A. G. Lancione, D-Belmont.

"Indefensible, a proposal that should be named the mal-apportionment amendment," Lancione said in reference to the GOP proposal which will be submitted to voters in the May primary.

Lancione said he introduced his "fractional vote plan" to correct "the inadequacies and the gross inequities of the issue 3 amendment which has been foisted off on the electorate by the majority party."

He renewed his charge that the GOP amendment was fashioned to retain control of the legislature for Republicans and to deprive rural areas of any representation in the legislature.

The Democratic leader's proposal would give each of Ohio's counties at least one representative in the house although some would have only a fraction of a vote based on one vote for each 80,000 population.

Under the Republican proposal, county lines would be crossed to create districts, with less minimum of one representative to which they now are entitled.

Sponsors of the GOP plan, approved at the special session last December while Republicans had the three-fifths majority needed, attacked Lancione's measure almost simultaneously with its introduction.

Reps. Thomas D. Gindesberger, R-Holmes; Walter L. White, R-Allen; Lloyd G. Kerns, R-Union; and Ralph D. Cole, R-Hancock, issued a joint statement saying, "It would lead to a fantastic system which would require the use of computers at every stage of the legislative procedure, and in particular, would create a monstrous mess of the committee system."

Lancione said Democrats will seek to have their proposal placed on the November ballot "after issue 3 is defeated or knocked out by the courts."

In another legislative development, the Senate received a bill which would assure teachers of the $300 across-the-board pay hike promised by Gov. James A. Rhodes establish a minimum salary for teachers, and provide for an annual increase of $150.

Sen. Oakley C. Collins, R-Lawrence, chairman of the Senate Health and Education Committee, is among the seven GOP sponsors of the legislation which would make about $55 million available for teacher salaries in the 1965-67 biennium. Cost of Rhodes' pay raise proposal was about $37 million for the same period.

Other developments during a busy legislative day.

The Senate completed legislative action on a measure to make a deficiency appropriation of $7.5 million for the school foundation program. Also approved by the upper chamber was a bill permitting service of summons to out-of-state plaintiffs by mail.

In the House, approval was given the first of three major appropriations bills for the 1965-67 biennium. Passed 131-0 was a measure appropriating $837 million for the highway department and $31 million for the department of highway safety. It now goes to the Senate.

Representatives also passed a measure making parents liable for up to $500 for vandalism damage by their children 18 or under.

New bills offered by the legislators brought the total in both chambers to 735. Offered in the Senate were proposals to require drive-in theaters to close at 1:30 a.m., dog wardens to post notice of captive dogs in their office, and define the term "knowingly" in laws covering distribution of obscene literature.

Cablevision Control Foes To Be Heard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Opponents of a bill to regulate Community Antenna Television (CATV) in Ohio are expected to have their first say next week.

The Senate Public Utilities and Public Works Committee will resume hearings on the bill and hear its first witnesses next Tuesday.

The bill, by chairman Tennyson Guyer, R-Hancock, may produce heated arguments from telephone and movie interests.

Guyer, opening hearings Tuesday, wants to put CATV under regulation by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

His bill would require CATV operators to buy $50 certificates to occupy public highways and allow the utilities commission to specify terms and conditions of use.

The Community Television System is now subject only to control from the cities which franchise operators. The systems pick up television programs from metropolitan stations and carry them by a series of relays to points as far as 100 miles away.

Shrine Circus Promotions Due Saturday

Aladdin Temple clowns will be in downtown Circleville from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. Saturday under auspices of Circleville Shrine Club.

Joseph Peters, local Shrine president, said the bevy of grease painted comics will be seen in the vicinity of the Court and Main St. area in routines promoting the 15th annual Shrine Circus April 1-10, in Ohio Fairgrounds Coliseum, Columbus.

The clowns will distribute reserved and general admission tickets to passersby who express an interest in the 24-act, 2½-hour show that will be presented for the public 19 days.

The first entertainment is a warm-up session at an April Fool's Day matinee with needy and handicapped children, and the representatives of area newspapers, radio and television as guests.

Richard E. Goudy, circus director, said efforts of Dr. Frank Rator and the 20-member clown unit he heads will help Aladdin Temple reach the 65,000 attendance mark sought for the 1965 circus.

The Circleville appearance is one of seven planned in different locations on Saturdays throughout the month by the clowns.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The 1964-65 television season may be best remembered as the period in which the networks made a furious bid for the youthful audience.

Certainly a large number of shows from the rock 'n' roll "Shindig" and "Hullabaloo" to "The Munsters" and "The Patty Duke Show" are aimed at this young audience and its potential buying power.

Ever since Uncle Miltie started trying on women's funny hats, television and its effects on children and young people have been the subject of many earnest studies. But a vast amount of information has been collected about youthful viewing habits.

Now comes an informal poll of the television interests of the 50 high school seniors from every state of the Union who will compete Friday night in the finals of "America's Junior Miss" contest on NBC.

Their television habits, agree generally with the findings of researchers over the years, except that they watch a bit less than the average — an hour or less a day by their own estimates.

They overwhelmingly named "Bonanza" as their favorite program, followed by "Mr. Novak" and "Shindig" in a tie for second and "The Fugitive" and "Dr. Kildare" in third place. "Peyton Place" and the "Dick Van Dyke Show" tied for fourth.

The Junior Miss America contest, which carries a check for four years of college to the winner, grew out of a 40-year-old Mobile, Ala., spring flower festival. The Friday evening program will be the first time it has been shown on television.

Two-thirds of CBS's re-runs of old movies next season will be in color. Among the films slated for Thursday evening broadcasts are "The Wackiest Ship in the Army," parent of a new NBC series on Sunday nights, and "Gidget Goes Hawaiian," partial inspiration at least of ABC's forthcoming effort called "Gidget."

Recommended tonight: Dinah Shore Special, ABC, 8:30-9:30 EST — with Bob Hope and ballerina Maria Tallchief.

Electric Union Poll Ballots In Custody

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ordered Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to take custody of the ballots in the contested election for the presidency of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

The court order, issued Monday night, said the ballots must remain in the secretary's custody during a Labor Department investigation, and until further order of the court.

The court said officials of the union, including representatives of President James B. Carey, may have reasonable access to the ballots, and other impounded election material, but only under Labor Department supervision.

The order further provides that Paul Jennings, who is contesting Carey's re-election last year, may have representatives to observe any Labor Department action in connection with the ballots.

The ballots had been impounded by the court and are now in a storage company in Washington.

Wirtz announced March 11 that the Labor Department would investigate the election. The department, at that time, had sought custody of the ballots and election records.

Ohio Tippling Rate Climbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state auditor made an analysis of 1964 liquor sales last year and came up Tuesday with the fact that Ohio tipplers are going for vodka in a big way.

Auditor Chester W. Goble said the case sales of the Russian drink totaled $28,899 in the year marking an increase of 16.29 per cent above 1963.

Goble said the nearest percentage competitor was Scotch where the case sales of $36,517 represented a gain of 15.19 per cent.

But in the big picture of liquor sales, whisky still by far is the most popular purchase of Ohioans. They bought a total of 3,461,108 cases during 1964 for an increase of 3.01 per cent.

Sales of all types of bottled spirits represented an increase of 5.5 per cent above 1963, according to Goble's report.

Husky Youth Is Sought in Stabbing Case

NEW YORK (AP) — Police broadcast an alarm today for a husky Negro youth wanted for questioning about the slaying of a white youth on a subway car here.

15-Year-Old Driver Injured at Crossing

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—An under-aged teen-age driver was injured Tuesday when she drove her car into the path of a Baltimore and Ohio freight train at a crossing on Ohio 72 in nearby Reesville.

Bonnie Hartley, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartley of near Reesville, was taken to Fayette County Memorial Hospital in Washington Court House and was listed in serious condition.

The alarm followed the arrest of another youth described as a material witness who had named the killer. The slayer repeatedly plunged a knife into the brain of Andrew A. Morille, 17, shortly before midnight Friday.

At least 15 persons saw the murder in the subway train in Brooklyn, police said, but detectives had not found any of them until today's arrest of Terry Toomer, 17, as a material witness.

Chief of Detectives Philip Walsh announced the 15-state alarm for Christopher Lynch, 17, and described him as 6 feet, 4 inches tall, weighing 210 pounds, and wearing a black cap, three-quarter-length black coat, khaki trousers and black cowboy boots.

Walsh said Lynch had been arrested twice last year, the first time as a youthful offender accused of carrying a knife and disorderly conduct, and the second time for assault.

ARTHRITIS PATTERN VARIES

Q. I don't have arthritis (no pain) but lately the joints of both index fingers have become lumpy. The fingers tend to be crooked. Are there any exercises I can do to keep my fingers straight?

A. You may or may not have arthritis so it would be best to have a medical examination. Arthritis follows many patterns and may even progress with little or no pain. Neglected treatment often accounts for hand deformity although it must be admitted that treatment may fail to halt or correct finger crookedness.

BALD MEN

Q. Does anyone know what causes baldness in men?

A. Male-type baldness is an inherited tendency of certain scalp hair follicles to become progressively transformed so that they produce downy hairs rather than coarse hairs. This process is completely unrelated to such factors as scalp circulation, dandruff, scalp "tension," or the wearing or nonwearing of hats. Further, male pattern baldness, occurring in an adult male, is not due to excessive production of male sex hormone, reassuring as this popular fallacy may be to some bald men.

The personal interest we take in the health of those we serve is of equal importance with the professional skill we put in the dispensing of prescribed medicine.

Kent State Urges Megalopolis Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Heavily populated Northeast Ohio is almost one big city and should be treated that way, says Kent State University.

The university, backing its contention, announced Tuesday that it has invited federal and state officials to join it in discussing the situation at a conference May 21-22 at Kent.

Dr. Robert L. White, Kent president, said the purpose is to coordinate planning efforts for what he termed Ohio's "Megalopolis."

He defined megalopolis "as a string or bunching of central cities, suburbs and satellite areas."

Booming population in the future is the problem, White said. "People are not enough concerned about the increased number of people."

White said attending the meeting will be the Urban Affairs Committee of the Ohio Senate, federal housing administrator Robert C. Weaver, Cleveland Plain Dealer Editor and publisher Thomas Vail and other Northeast Ohio leaders.

Kent trustees announced earlier this year the formation of a $25,000 "urban regionalism" center at the university.

White, here to attend an alumni meeting, said the May conference will discuss planning for population growth on a regional instead of city or county basis.

White said U. S. population is estimated to reach 460 million by 2025.

"We must remain people and not nameless numbers," he said.

Woman Driver Loses License for 3 Years

CLEVELAND (AP) — Parma Municipal Judge Stephen A. Zona suspended for three years a woman's driver's license and placed her on three years' probation after she pleaded guilty to 11 traffic charges Tuesday.

Mrs. Hazel Knox, 30, of Independence, paid $679 in fines and court costs. Parma police said she tore up eight tickets given last November when she was involved in an accident. Police learned she also had three other traffic charges pending.

Save the Bridges

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's Highway Department is taking steps to preserve 18 old wooden covered bridges remaining in the state.

A study is underway to determine how many of the bridges can be maintained.

The bridges have been gradually disappearing in Kentucky and historical groups have clamored for their preservation.

Outdoors Best?

MONSTAR, Yugoslavia (AP) — Mujo Cralic, now 91, has almost never slept in a house since he was a child. As a young shepherd he became accustomed to sleeping out in the hills with his flock in summer and in the sheep pen in winter. He has been doing it ever since and attributes his good health to never sleeping in stuffy rooms.

Montgomery ...

The governor had no comment on the horsemen's actions. The possemen were led by Sheriff Mac Sim Butler, riding a horse and wearing a Western-style hat, after the white and Negro college students refused to disperse.

The horsemen first routed a small group of demonstrators led by James Forman at Atlanta, executive secretary of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Forman wrapped his arms around a telephone pole. A posseman swung his club into the pole. Forman fled.

The sheriff was swinging a cane by the tip end.

A college student of Japanese descent, Steven Kiyoshi Kuroki, 21, backed against a brick wall. A mounted deputy clubbed him and he fell, bleeding from the head.

The horsemen rode slowly into the standing crowd of about 500 white and Negro demonstrators across the street.

"Get out of here," the possemen shouted. The crowd stayed.

The horsemen started swinging clubs, canes and doubled lengths of rope. Some demonstrators ran. Others fell. A white coat was knocked down.

"Watch that whip!" shouted a demonstrator.

Another youth fell, blood pouring from a wound. Two persons were taken away in ambulances.

City prosecutor Dave Crossland said the sheriff had been asked only to disperse the small group and to help contain the others.

Asst. Police Chief D. H. Lackey said of the clubbing: "I don't feel like it was necessary. All our orders were to hold them and contain them. How they got the word to disperse this crowd, I don't know."

Crossland quoted the sheriff as saying his possemen moved in on the larger group of demonstrators while he was looking the other way.

Kuromiya, an architectural student at the University of Pennsylvania, suffered head cuts. So did Donald Hope, 38, an assistant professor of English at Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pa.

Kuromiya, of Monrovia, Calif., an honor student and a member of the Student Peace

Union and the college NAACP chapter, sat in at a recent demonstration at Independence Hall around the Liberty Bell.

Hope was among a group of ministers, 15 students and other college teachers who left Juniata College Saturday in a five-car motorcade to Montgomery.

Also treated at a hospital were two Negro high school pupils, Helen Jordan, 18, of Montgomery, and Anita Horne, 18, of Thomasville, Ala. They had bruises of the abdomen.

Four others also were taken to a hospital. The later march to the Capitol was orderly but tense. State legislators stood on the steps and watched.

City Police Capt. K. W. Jones led the marchers into the Capitol area and told a state trooper major: "This is an organized march. They've got a permit."

A line of troopers backed from the sidewalk to the curb and faced the demonstrators. The city policemen stepped away.

A spokesman for the Student Council of Alabama State College carried a petition for the governor. It deplored racial trouble in Selma, any ban on free speech or assembly and "all existing discrimination of voter registration."

The petition also called for creation of a biracial state committee and appealed to the governor to assure that the state would comply with school provisions of the civil rights law.

From 1949 to 1963 spending for railway commutation in the nation increased 62 per cent, from $79 million to $128 million.

KNOW THE FACTS

We have checked our sales figures since the first of February and have come up with the following information.

45.4 of our sales came from other makes of cars. These included trade-ins of Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Chrysler, Chevrolet, Cadillac and Ford.

54.6 of our sales were NEW customers. These are figures that we like to read. They prove that people are inspecting Buick before they purchase, and that we have built up good Service and Customer relations over 29 years. We have had many repeat customers since 1936.

Our Service and Sales personnel represents 187 years with the automobile business. Everyone here has attended Service or Sales Schools. We guarantee what we do or what we say.

The first training I received in business was from my Father in 1906. I have always believed that a product is no better than the service and dealer back of it. We have made every effort to live up to this, and we like to think that it is responsible for so much repeat business and our many new customers.

Buick has always been recognized as having the finest ride in the industry. Buick, which has always had Valve-in-Head Engines, said in 1914.

"We predict that all engines will eventually be Valve-in-Head".

All regular size cars today ARE Valve-in-Head, but the engines are not made as Buick makes them. Ask about the difference.

In addition to ride and engine, you get 15" tires and wheels, the finest transmission, flatter floors, and many other items as standard equipment and at a comparable price.

Why not make a comparison as others have done. Find out why

U.S. Red Casualty Count Said Only Guesstimate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said, in effect, today that only part of Gen. Harold K. Johnson's estimate of 75,000 Communists killed in South Viet Nam was based on verified reports.

The Pentagon said the Viet Cong toll listed for 1964 and so far in 1965 is based on actual count of Communist bodies. This total comes to about 20,500 enemy dead.

It is not known how the figures were arrived at prior to 1964, the Pentagon said.

U.S. officials on the spot have said that Viet Cong casualty figures have been based largely on unauthenticated statistics provided by Vietnamese governments, together with claimed results from air strikes against the Communists.

The validity of figures on enemy casualties put out by the U.S. government has been at issue since early this month when Gen. Johnson, the Army chief of staff, told the Senate Armed Services Committee that about 75,000 Viet Cong had been killed so far.

Among others, Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, has disputed the accuracy of Johnson's figures. In response to inquiries about the method of determining casualty figures, the Defense Department said that only a body count is now used as a basis for reports.

Both South Vietnamese troops and U.S. advisers are sources for these statistics, the Pentagon said. U.S. advisers with the Vietnamese units verify the count on the spot, it said.

"Also, there are cases of going back over an area to verify results of strikes by count, graves, witnesses or other crosscheck means," the Pentagon said. "There must be verification."

Statistics for 1964 and 1965 "are considered reliable," the Defense Department said.

It did not vouch for statistics on Viet Cong casualties in 1961, 1962 or 1963 — all of which formed part of the basis for Gen. Johnson's 75,000 estimate.

According to a year end round-up released Jan. 6 by the U.S. Military Assistance Command in Saigon, an estimated 10,000 Communists were killed in action in 1961, 21,000 in 1962 and 21,000 in 1963.

Child-Beater Handed 6-Month Jail Term

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) — A juvenile court judge sentenced Arlan Flowers to six months in the Columbiana County jail Tuesday for beating his three young daughters with a large leather belt with a metal buckle.

Flowers, 30, gave no reason for beating the girls, who are 6, 4 and 3-years-old. He was sentenced by Judge Louis Tobin, who suspended four months of the six-month sentence and ordered Flowers not to see his family without permission of probate court after his release from jail.

Here's Panorama Of Week News

EDITOR'S NOTE — Trial by juvenile, Juan Peron and his Virginia license, Beefsteak Charlie, king of the hoboes, Man vs. sea nettle. All are a part of the U.S. scene this week.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) — Youngsters who run afoul of the law in Grand Island are learning what it means to be judged by their peers.

They face an advisory jury of six high school students in Dist. Court Judge Donald H. Weaver's court.

The young jurors are learning something about the difficulties of justice, too.

Six boys and girls sit in the jury box during juvenile trials, hear the evidence and then discuss it informally in Weaver's chambers. The judge asks their recommendation, although he isn't bound to adopt it.

The judge will continue the plan through the current school year. Next September he will decide whether it should be continued.

"So far," he says, "I've seen no reason why it should not be continued."

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Among the sights in Spain is a deposed Argentine dictator riding around in a French car with Virginia license plates.

Juan Peron is the most famous of the 2,000 or so "Virginia exiles" who use Virginia plates in Spain and 50 other nations.

For Peron it's an expired 1961 license, numbered A271-679, which he got through the mails in February 1962.

Virginia is a mecca for foreigners and Americans living abroad who want to register their cars cheaply and without bother.

This mail - order business brings about $40,000 a year to Virginia, one of the few states that doesn't require proof of residence. The purchaser need show only proof of ownership and insurance, and most foreigners are content to pay the $20 extra for the uninsured motorist fee.

BOONE, Iowa (AP) — A cold north wind blew and nearly a foot of snow covered the ground but the man in the colorful wool knit ski cap explained he was on an important mission.

It must have been because he had left warm, sunny Florida more than a week before to hitchhike to wintry Iowa.

He carried a slogan: "Beefsteak in every pot, beefsteak for all and all for beefsteak."

The man was "Beefsteak Charlie," campaigning around the country for re-election as king of the hoboes next summer at the 65th annual Britt, Iowa, Hobo Day.

Beefsteak Charlie — he gives no other name — said when he was first elected last summer that he was 43, had been a hobo 30 years and was from New York.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — For years the pesky little sea nettle has had things pretty much its own way. Now man may be about ready to strike back.

The sea nettle, or jellyfish, is a small white umbrella-shaped creature which inflicts a nasty sting with its delicately formed tentacles. He makes life miserable for swimmers in the Chesapeake Bay during much of the summer and is found, in some form, in salt water throughout much of the world.

The Maryland Department of Chesapeake Bay Affairs is seeking, and is likely to get, $25,000 at the current session of the state legislature to study possible ways of eliminating the sea nettle from the bay.

Elyria Building Chief Quits Job under Fire

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — City Building Inspector James J. Seres resigned Tuesday from his $7,200-a-year job amid criticism that he was running his department inefficiently. Assistant Inspector Robert S. Stephen was named acting head of the department by Safety - Service Director Jack M. Birchill.

Seres, who held the job the past 10 years, said he was quitting for personal reasons.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two most powerful individual forces helping the Negroes' struggle for civil rights laid their foundation stones nine years ago: President Johnson and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. In 1956, still boiling over the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing segregation, Southerners in both houses of Congress signed a "manifesto" in which they denounced the court action. They pledged themselves to use "all lawful means" to undo the decision. Only three Southern senators didn't sign it. Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and two Tennessee Democrats, Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore, Kefauver died in 1963.

If Johnson had signed, almost certainly he could never have been chosen the Democratic party's vice-presidential candidate in 1960 or its presidential candidate in 1964.

By not signing he left the way open both to his political future and to one action after another in support of civil rights.

On Dec. 1, 1955, a 43-year-old seamstress, Rosa Parks, was arrested for refusing to give up her seat to a white man and move to the back of a bus in Montgomery, Ala.

King at the time was a 27-year-old unknown pastor of the Dexter Avenue Baptist Church in Montgomery. The night after Mrs. Parks' arrest 50 Negro leaders of the city met at the church to discuss her case. The decision was momentous although it may not have seemed so then: the whole Negro community of Montgomery should boycott the buses in mass protest. Out of that mushroomed all the Negro protests and demonstrations since.

Negroes walked to work or formed car pools. They crippled the bus company, 65 per cent of whose passengers had been Negroes. The boycott continued into 1956. The eloquent King, now one of the leaders, became a spokesman for Negroes' aspirations.

He said: "Integration is the great issue of our age, of our nation, of our community. Our victory will be a victory for justice for fair play, and for democracy."

He was arrested in 1956 by Alabama authorities on a charge of conspiring in an illegal boycott, with the state arguing that once the boycott began King found he had "started a fire he couldn't stop." It was an amazing prophecy.

The spreading fire is stronger now than ever, as events of the past 11 days showed in Selma and Montgomery. Later in 1956 the Supreme Court knocked out Montgomery's bus segregation.

as unconstitutional.

By now King had become leader and national hero for millions of Negroes, preaching "nonviolence" as the turmoil grew, and receiving as a reward the Nobel Peace Prize last year.

In 1957, a year after the "manifesto," Johnson, Democratic Senate leader, steered to passage the first civil rights bill approved by Congress in this century.

It was no earthshaker. It had been watered down by compromise, in which Johnson took part. Some Negro leaders were angry over its weakness. But it was a beginning. The ancient power of Southern Democrats to stifle civil rights legislation had been broken. The door was open to new and stronger action.

In 1960 Johnson, still as Senate leader, pushed through another civil rights bill and, as president in 1964, still another. Now, under pressure of the present trouble in Alabama, Johnson has asked quick approval of still another bill to wipe out all discrimination against Negro voting.

Anyone who hadn't been following the news but read his address to a joint session of Congress Monday night, urging action on his bill, might have wondered whether it was Johnson or King speaking.

Johnson said in part: "Our mission is at once the oldest and most basic of this country: to right wrong, to do justice, to serve man. . . . The time of justice has now come. . . . It is right — and in the eyes of man and God — it should come."

Ex-Dixiecrat Likes His New Role in GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, conservative Southern Democrat turned Republican, says his new role fits him just fine.

The South Carolina senator switched his party allegiance in the midst of the 1964 presidential election campaign, declaring himself a "Goldwater Republican."

He is listed as a Republican in the new Congress.

How has the change affected him and his fortunes?

"The Republicans have treated me very nicely," says Thurmond. "The Democrats have shown no ill feeling."

President Johnson didn't even mention it when they met recently at a White House reception to which Johnson invited him and other legislators of both parties, Thurmond reported.

"I looked him right in the ball of the eye," Thurmond said, adding that he would have talked back if the President had reproached him.

"I would have told him that if he was standing by the principles of the Constitution he ought to stand for, it would have been different."

It's his feeling, the militant South Carolinian continued, that his switch was "more a case of the Democratic party leaving me, than for me leaving it."

He meant, Thurmond explained, that he believes the Democratic party has swung far to the left of the principles for which it stood when he joined it in his youth.

This wasn't his first real break with the titular Democratic leadership. In 1948 he was the States Rights party's nominee for president, in a break with President Harry S. Truman, the Democratic standard bearer. Thurmond carried South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

The senator now predicts good prospects for the GOP in the South. He said he finds the Republican party "more in accord with my own thinking" and he feels comfortable in it.

In the Senate, he said, "the Republican party and I voted the same 70 to 75 per cent of the time. It would have been easier if I could have voted 75 per cent with the party with which I was affiliated," but he said he couldn't do that conscientiously.

Any chance he might switch back to the Democratic party in the future?

"I see no chance in the world," the senator replied.

The change of parties involved both gains and losses for him, Thurmond said.

He lost his seat on the Commerce Committee as its 4th ranking majority party member, and the chairmanship of its surface transportation subcommittee. He also wound up with less patronage, that is, jobs to fill.

But he gained a seat on the Banking and Currency Committee as its third ranking minority party member, and would keep that rank if the GOP again becomes the Senate's majority party. His GOP colleagues also made him the senior minority member of that committee's securities subcommittee.

The Republicans let Thurmond retain his membership on the Armed Services Committee and on its investigative arm, the preparedness subcommittee. They assigned him as a voting ex-officio member of the defense appropriations subcommittee, a place of vantage Democrats never gave him.

Thurmond retired as a major general in the Army Reserve in January.

At 62 he is a slim, muscular 160 pounds. He says he can still run a mile at the Army double-time gait, and often walks the three miles to his home. He has had to suspend weight lifting exercises until he fully mends from major surgery performed last December.

Thurmond was elected to the Senate in 1954 as a write-in candidate for a term ending in 1956 but resigned in April 1956, to fulfill a campaign pledge to run in the primary election that year. He won the 1956 election and won again in 1960 for a six year term.

Jim Arledge Training 19 Horses at Pickaway Track

WINNING COMBINATION — Hideaway Pat has proven to be a money winner for local trainers, W. H. Arledge, in the sulky, and Jim Arledge. The father-son duo is training 19 harness horses at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

By STEVE JONES

One of Pickaway County's more successful harness horse trainers and drivers in recent years has been Jim Arledge, who is currently training a stable of 19 trotters and pacers at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

In 110 drives last year, Arledge had 35 wins, 15 seconds and 15 thirds.

One of the keys to his success has been the 7-year-old pacer, Hideaway Pat. With a lifetime mark of 2:02 2-5, Hideaway Pat has earned more than $23,000 during his racing career. Last year the horse ended the season with six wins, two second place finishes and was in the money three other times.

Owned by Jim's father, W. H. Arledge, Hideaway Pat is entered in a $21,000 Stake Race at Rosencroft, Md.

THE VETERAN pacer is not the only horse owned by the elder Arledge. Others are Dudley's Dandy, a 5-year-old with a mark of 2:07; Success Frost, Nolan and Lady Malachi, a trio of three year old pacers.

Jim himself owns Star Via Jean and Easter Scamp. Both trotters, the former holds a mark of 2:13 and is a 5-year-old while the latter is a 2-year-old colt.

The Asher brothers of New Holland, Dick and Joe, have entrusted four horses to the care of Jim and his father, including Great Berry, a 7-year-old with a lifetime record of 2:00 3-5.

The other three pacers owned by the Asher brothers are Worthy Berry, Bye Bye Berry and Lady Berry. The latter two are 2-year-olds and the first is a 3-year-old.

For Mr. and Mrs. James Mast of Lancaster, Arledge is working the 6-year-old pacer Dixie Crystal, who has a record of 2:07. Arledge and Mast own Dane Chief, a 4-year-old pacer with a record of 2:08 4-5.

A 6-year-old owned by Earl Metzger and Sons of Williamsport in the Arledge Stable is Desert Sand who has taken a record of 2:04.

Outdoorsmen To Map Fish Contest Plans

The Pickaway County Farmers' and Sportsmen's Assn. will have a full agenda of business to discuss when the group meets 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the 4-H and Grange Building at the fairgrounds.

Dick Redman secretary of the organization, said today one of the key items was a proposed fishing contest to be sponsored by the local outdoor group.

He noted the group also sponsors the annual fish and game hearing of the Department of Natural Resources that is held here.

A display is planned at the fairgrounds this year.

NYU, Army Win in NIT

Semifinals Due In Cage Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — New York University and Army find themselves in a familiar spot. Only they hope the spot becomes unfamiliar after Thursday night.

The basketball teams joined top-seeded Villanova and St. John's in the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament, NYU defeating Detroit 87-76 and Army outlasting Western Kentucky 58-54 Tuesday night.

In the semifinal round Army will meet St. John's before NYU battles Villanova, the nation's eighth-ranked team.

This marks the second straight year Army and NYU have reached the semifinals. But that's as far as they went last year. Eventual champion Bradley whipped the Cadets 67-52, and New Mexico beat NYU 72-65. Army then nipped the Violets 60-59 for third place.

Both teams face difficult times in surpassing their 1961 achievements. Villanova has a 22-4 record, Jim Washington and Bill Melchioni while St. John's has momentum, Ken McIntyre and Sony Dove.

"New York has a good solid club, but Villanova has an edge," Coach Bob Calihan of Detroit said after his team bowed out of the tournament. Coach Johnny Oldham of Western Kentucky said the better defense will win for Army or St. John's.

"Army will be stronger physically," he added. "St. John's is better on outside shooting. St. John's must contain Mike Silliman and John Ritch; Army must contain Dove and McIntyre."

As for McIntyre, who has scored 62 points in two NIT games, Army Coach Tate Locke said: "The way he's shooting, we'll have to guard him with a two-man."

The Cadets didn't trail Western Kentucky after the first few minutes. It wasn't until the final minutes, though, that their victory was assured. Silliman and Ritch each scored 17 points with Silliman scoring four clutch points and throwing a key pass to Ritch for another basket near the end.

A big factor in the NYU triumph was Detroit's loss of 6-foot-8 Dorie Murrey on personal fouls with nearly 18 minutes to play.

Al Lopez is heading for his ninth season as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

CHS Winter Sports Fete Is March 23

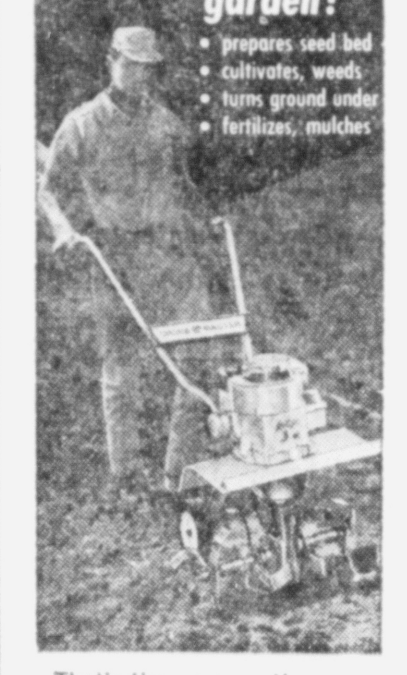

The Circleville High School Winter sports banquet honoring the wrestling and basketball teams will be held 6:30 p. m. March 23 at the 4-H and Grange Building.

A carry in affair, the banquet is sponsored annually by the Circleville Boosters and the high school.

James Snyder, head basketball coach at Ohio University will be the guest speaker.

All persons planning to attend are requested to bring a covered dish and table service. The Booster Club will furnish beverages, bread and butter.

A big factor in the NYU triumph was Detroit's loss of 6-foot-8 Dorie Murrey on personal fouls with nearly 18 minutes to play.

Al Lopez is heading for his ninth season as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

NYU, Army Win in NIT

Semifinals Due In Cage Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — New York University and Army find themselves in a familiar spot. Only they hope the spot becomes unfamiliar after Thursday night.

The basketball teams joined top-seeded Villanova and St. John's in the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament, NYU defeating Detroit 87-76 and Army outlasting Western Kentucky 58-54 Tuesday night.

In the semifinal round Army will meet St. John's before NYU battles Villanova, the nation's eighth-ranked team.

This marks the second straight year Army and NYU have reached the semifinals. But that's as far as they went last year. Eventual champion Bradley whipped the Cadets 67-52, and New Mexico beat NYU 72-65. Army then nipped the Violets 60-59 for third place.

Both teams face difficult times in surpassing their 1961 achievements. Villanova has a 22-4 record, Jim Washington and Bill Melchioni while St. John's has momentum, Ken McIntyre and Sony Dove.

"New York has a good solid club, but Villanova has an edge," Coach Bob Calihan of Detroit said after his team bowed out of the tournament. Coach Johnny Oldham of Western Kentucky said the better defense will win for Army or St. John's.

"Army will be stronger physically," he added. "St. John's is better on outside shooting. St. John's must contain Mike Silliman and John Ritch; Army must contain Dove and McIntyre."

As for McIntyre, who has scored 62 points in two NIT games, Army Coach Tate Locke said: "The way he's shooting, we'll have to guard him with a two-man."

The Cadets didn't trail Western Kentucky after the first few minutes. It wasn't until the final minutes, though, that their victory was assured. Silliman and Ritch each scored 17 points with Silliman scoring four clutch points and throwing a key pass to Ritch for another basket near the end.

A big factor in the NYU triumph was Detroit's loss of 6-foot-8 Dorie Murrey on personal fouls with nearly 18 minutes to play.

Al Lopez is heading for his ninth season as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Bradley-Russell Clash Doubtful

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — No, there's little or no chance of a head-to-head clash between Princeton's Bill Bradley and Michigan's Cazzie Russell when the two teams meet Friday in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball championships.

Yanks Look Very Strong In Grapefruit Loop Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nine American League clubs have been keeping an anxious watch on baseball developments in the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., area this spring. The news, so far, is all bad.

Item: CBS tops the Grapefruit Circuit with a perfect rating.

Item: Whitey Ford's new left arm may be an improvement on the original.

Item: Mickey Mantle has the tape-measure gang on the run.

Item: Young Yankees carry big bats, too.

The New York Yankees, getting set to open their bid for an unprecedented sixth straight pennant, scored five runs in the bottom of the ninth inning and edged Pittsburgh 6-5 Tuesday at Fort Lauderdale for their fifth exhibition victory without a loss.

The triumph over the previously unbeaten Pirates left the CBS-owned Yankees — and manager Johnny Keane — with the only perfect spring mark in the majors.

Ford and Mantle, physical question marks two weeks ago, continued to make healthy contributions while four rookies came up with key hits in the ninth-inning uprising.

Ford, making his second exhibition appearance after undergoing surgery on his pitching shoulder, blanked the Pirates on two hits over the first four innings. The 36-year-old southpaw has not been scored on and has allowed only four hits in seven innings.

Mantle hit his second spring homer, a 440-foot drive over the left-field fence, and patrolled his old center field post with no apparent strain on his injury-prone knees.

Trailing 5-1 in the ninth, the Yankees knotted the score on run-scoring singles by Arturo Lopez and Roger Repoz and Billy Madden's two-run triple.

Mike Hegan delivered the winning run with his third hit of the game.

Ralph Terry, an ex-Yankee, turned in a masterful pitching performance for the Cleveland

"I'd say it's very doubtful that Russell will be guarding Bradley," said Michigan Coach Dave Strack by a four-way telephone hook-up with the four coaches whose teams are in the tourney.

"I'm not sure who will be guarding him."

"Probably everybody."

Strack was apparently reluctant to talk about Bradley, Princeton's two-time All-American and Player of the Year.

He's still haunted by the memory of Bradley's performance in the only previous meeting this season, in the semifinals of the Holiday Festival in New York.

Bradley scored 41 points in that game and propelled Princeton to a 12-point lead over the nation's No. 1 college basketball team before he fouled out with 3½ minutes left. Michigan won it on a 20-foot jump shot by Russell, also an All-American, in the last few seconds.

Michigan, still ranked No. 1 with a 23-3 record, plays Princeton, 22-5, in the first game of the Friday night semifinal double-header. Second-ranked UCLA, the defending champion with a 26-2 record, plays Wichita, 21-7 and unranked, in the nightcap.

The winners meet Saturday in the nationally televised final for the national championship. Game time is 10 p. m., EST.

New Bicycle Law Is Now in Effect

An ordinance establishing a program for registration and inspection of bicycles in the city was passed last night by Circleville Council.

The measure actually amends two sections of a bicycle law that was enacted here in 1956. It also provides certain safety standards that must be met before registration tags will be issued.

According to the new provisions, all bicycles in the city will be registered by May 1 of this year. A metal tag bearing a serial number and the word "Circleville" will be furnished each bike that meets the required standards.

Tags will not be issued to bicycles that do not have these accessories: bell, horn or any appropriate warning device; kickstand or other device capable of holding the bike in an upright position; chain guard; adequate brakes, including two peddles; seat or saddle; handle bars.

SECTION No. 2 of the new provision sets a registration fee of 50 cents. The previous charge was 25 cents.

However, Police Chief Robert Temple pointed out that the new fee and registration is for the life of the bicycle, instead of a yearly basis as was the case previously. An additional fee of 25 cents will be charged with each change of ownership of any bicycle previously registered.

The new bicycle provision was sponsored by the local Bicycle Safety Committee composed of several law enforcement officers and numerous citizens. Members of the panel consider the amendment a means of promoting increased safety measures concerning young bike riders.

In other business, the solons discussed future extension and improvements at Atwater Ave. and Nicholas Drive. The service director was authorized to acquire proper and up-to-date plans and specifications prior to obtaining necessary land.

Acting as a body, the lawmakers commended Fire Lt. Noble Barr on his retirement following more than 25 years with the local department.

Solon Frank Barnhill also commended the City Service Department for its current efforts in patching holes in city streets.

Slain Girl's Mother Calls Abbott 'Fine'

CINCINNATI (AP) — "He seemed a perfect gentleman, nicely dressed, white shirt, tie, handsome, shined shoes. Very nice."

That was Mrs. Evelyn Cook testifying Tuesday about Robert R. Abbott when he came to pick up her daughter, Wanda Cook, for a luncheon date. She never saw her daughter again.

Abbott, 21, Dayton, Ky., is accused of killing Wanda, 24, last Oct. 15, and is standing trial on a murder charge.

Mrs. Cook was one of 13 witnesses who appeared for the state Tuesday and traced the last day in Wanda's life. Another witness was the dead girl's sister, Helen, 18.

The prosecution claims that Abbott, after lunching with Miss Cook, who was a 24-year-old nurse, took her to the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel here and shot her when an alleged love nest did not work out.

A waiter testified he served lunch to Abbott and Miss Cook. A handwriting expert was called to appear, but his testimony wasn't needed. Defense attorney Harry H. McIlwain said he agreed that it was Abbott who signed for a room at the Gibson.

Miss Cook's body was shipped to Cleveland in a trunk. Miss Alice Ewing, Fort Thomas, Ky., testified Monday she helped remove the body from the hotel and send it to Cleveland. Miss Ewing, engaged to Abbott, has been charged with illegal removal of a body.

State Patrolman Is Speaker At Circleville Lions Club

Corporal R. L. Schell of the Ohio State Patrol presented a program entitled "Traffic Laws and Accidents" to the Circleville Lions Club last night when the group met at Wardell's Party Home.

Schell compared the three year total of over 300 casualties in Viet Nam to the more than 2,000 fatalities and 170,000 accidents on Ohio Highways each year. He cited as causes of accidents failure of drivers to set a good example, poor driving practices, disobeying traffic laws and inattention and taking chances.

He pointed out the latter two were responsible for more accidents than speed and intoxication.

Cpl. Schell also listed the many poor excuses offenders give for violations and he emphasized many of the uncommon traffic laws that exist.

He cited education and strict enforcement as the major cures for accidents.

Charles Jones, Leslie Hines and Harold Alkire were introduced as guests of the Club last night.

Dr. William Speakman reported over 1,000 Circleville students had their eyes examined by the Lions Club and work was beginning in some county schools.

Clarence Radcliffe reported Ohio Lions had contributed $30,000 last year to eye research in three major universities. The club voted to continue participation in the program as well as the pilot dogs program.

Jury Reduces Murder Rap On Farmhand

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A West Virginia farmhand tried for first-degree murder in the 1956 shotgun slaying of a Martins Ferry woman, has been found guilty on a lesser charge of first-degree manslaughter.

A Belmont County Common Pleas Court jury deliberated three hours and 15 minutes before returning the reduced conviction Tuesday against Marvin Lee Schrebe, 31, in the death of Mrs. Jean Ashton Goff, then 23, at her rural home July 4, 1956. The prosecution had sought the death penalty against Schrebe.

Authorities were without clues in the case until late last year when former Belmont County Prosecutor William H. Irwin obtained a statement from 24-year-old Harold (Tippy) O'Hara of Martins Ferry. O'Hara told Irwin he and a cousin, Edward Lee Snyder, 23, of Cleveland, were with Schrebe the night of the slaying. Schrebe was then arrested at a farm near Hebron, W. Va., where he was working.

O'Hara said he and Snyder, then 14 and 13 years of age, spent the afternoon and evening of the slaying drinking stolen whisky with Schrebe, then a taxi driver in Martins Ferry. He said they went to the Goff home at night, Schrebe entered the house, and that a shot was fired soon after he entered.

Hall-Adkins Post Prepping for Birthday Observance

A giant-size birthday celebration is being planned by American Legionnaires of Hall-Adkins Post 134 here in conjunction with the Legion's 46th anniversary this week, Post Commander Emil Stonerock announced today.

The participation of local Legionnaires in this year's anniversary celebration will add to the festivities of some 16,000 Legion community organizations throughout the nation and in several overseas countries and territories. Legion members consider it the world's largest birthday party.

The American Legion was founded in 1919 in Paris, France, shortly after the close of World War I. It was organized by representatives of various units which made up the American Expeditionary Force.

The organization now consists of veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War.

COMMANDER Stonerock said a committee, headed by Roger L. Smith, has been appointed to make arrangements for the anniversary celebration here. Other members of the committee are Harold W. Hill, Carl K. Radcliff Sr.

Highlighting the observance will be a birthday dinner dance Saturday night, Mar. 20, at the Post Home, Commander Stonerock said.

A portion of the birthday celebration will be the awarding of membership drive awards, with the Post championship honor going to Legionnaire Leland E. Dowden. Other service awards will be given.

James Shea, Veterans Service officer will serve as master of ceremonies. Merle Brady, past department commander and past national executive committee member from Van Wert, will deliver the principal address.

Winner Elected as Ruler Of Circleville BPO Elks

Circleville BPO Elks Lodge last night elected Marshall W. Winner of 150 Watt St. to be its presiding officer for the lodge year beginning April 1.

Winner, who operates an auto parts business in Chillicothe, will succeed William Riskey as exalted ruler of the 600-member fraternal organization.

Installation of officers has been scheduled for Saturday night, April 10. The event, open to Elks and their ladies, will be preceded by a dinner and followed by a dance.

Winner and his wife, Julie, are the parents of three sons—Wayne, a senior in Circleville High School; Joe, a sophomore; and Dave, a fifth grader.

MARSHALL WINNER

THEY are members of Circleville First Methodist Church.

Other officers elected with

Winner last night were:

Gene Lindsey, leading knight; Robert Huffer, loyal knight; Chester McKenzie, lecturing knight; Karl O. Drum, trustee; Warren Baker, treasurer; Tom Stocklen, tiler; David Goldschmidt, alternate to the Grand Lodge; and Forrest Webster, secretary.

Webster was elected in the only contest on the slate of officers. He defeated Andrew U. Thomas for the assignment of succeeding J. Russell Valen-time, secretary for the last several years but who declined to continue in the post.

Winner announced the appointment of four junior officers: Wendell Emerine as esquire; Jack Weikert as chaplain; John Dougherty as inner guard and Richard Plum as organist.

A lengthy list of committeemen to be named by the newly-elected exalted ruler will be announced later.

Solon Insists He's Serious On Dem Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Charles L. Pancake, D-Athens, distributed to newsmen Tuesday night undelivered testimony on his bill to appropriate $939,000 for the state Democratic Party.

Pancake acted only a few hours after the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, postponed indefinitely a hearing on the measure and called on Pancake to prepare a brief on its constitutionality.

The senator from Nelsonville objected to the postponement, saying "I have spent many precious hours getting my guns ready and cocked. I am not going to prepare any such brief."

Pancake began his statement with criticism of newspaper stories indicating he is not serious about the proposal which he said resulted from "administration expenditures of $939,000" to promote four issues on the May ballot.

"As a matter of protecting our democratic heritage, I have introduced Senate Bill No. 207 so that the opponents of the four Rhodes issues may have their case to the public."

Pancake said he is particularly incensed over reports that $313,000 in highway funds was used to print a new "over-sized" map which "actually is a traffic hazard."
